Why Net incomes and not gross incomes should be applied for data platform. CBA data presents various trends and unearth interesting phenomenon that reveals the urgency for mechanization due to high labour costs.

About Farm Concern International, FCI

Farm Concern International FCI, is a highly specialized Africa-wide Agri-Market Development (VEMAC) Programme funded by World Vision Rwanda revealed that cassava production is labour intensive with labour costs accounting for 54% of the total cost of production. The main cost drivers include weeding land preparation and harvesting with yield levels of 4.5 t/ha.

About Farm Concern International, FCI

Farm Concern International FCI, is a highly specialized Africa-wide Agri-Market Development (VEMAC) Programme funded by World Vision Rwanda revealed that cassava production is labour intensive with labour costs accounting for 54% of the total cost of production. The main cost drivers include weeding land preparation and harvesting with yield levels of 4.5 t/ha.

Comparison of cost benefit analysis for selected crops in Malawi

Why Cost Benefit Analysis? Cost Benefit Analysis (CBA) is essential for budgeting, planning methodology, and financial management. It helps to identify projects that can deliver the greatest return on investment. It also helps to determine the profitability of various projects, helping to make informed decisions on which projects to undertake and which to abandon.